SECTION CONTROL.

1. You, the Steward must control your area– not the Judge. You are the Judge's right hand and obviously you must agree on procedure, but only you know in detail the order and timing of events, number of exhibitors etc. A capable Judge should expect you to control and organize your section for him/her to work in.
2. Discuss with the Judge any Special Awards and Championships.
NO EQUAL prizes are to be awarded as we cannot split some prizes.
Judges may award Highly Commended cards.
3. Chief Hall Stewards have the right to make a judgment of the appropriateness of an entry into a class and change it if necessary, or split some classes if appropriate.
4. Have all Exhibits in each class area assembled before you allow judging to commence. Then have exhibits organized in Schedule order and displayed as well as possible before the hall opens when the public are able to view the exhibits.

5. When decisions have been reached, the Judge should tell you, the Steward, in which order they have been placed. So you can enter the placing on the Board.

AFTER JUDGING HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

1. Complete all place cards according to the Judge's decisions. Place on matching entries. Display the Rosette and fill out a Champion card if you have a Rosette or a medal in children's section.
2. Return the Section Board with the results marked on it to the designated Chief Hall Steward.
3. Gather together all the bits and pieces from your bag and return it to the Hall Supervisor
4. Let the Hall Supervisor or Chief Stewards know of any discrepancies etc so they can be rectified for future Shows. Please write these down on the forms provided.

DISPUTES

1. In the event of a dispute or a protest, the Hall Supervisor or Chief Steward must be called. If he/she is unable to resolve the matter, then it must be taken to the Judicial Committee in accordance with the rules.
The matter should be documented with the name of a witness if possible.

CONCLUSION.

Showing should be an enjoyable occasion for everyone concerned. If the weather is bad and things go wrong, even the red ribbons will be the wrong shade of red, and it is likely that the responsibility for everything, including the weather will fall on your shoulders.

If you are properly prepared and willing to help, your events will run like clockwork and everyone will be praised for the success.

HAVE A WONDERFUL SHOW
AND THANKS FOR BEING THE STEWARD.
We'll see you at our annual B. B.Q and again next year.
